

Carol Blackwell

Carol is the Beginning School Principal. This is Carol's fourteenth year as Beginning School Principal. She came to the school after many years of work involving public policy for children both at the national and state level, including directing the Utah State Office of Child Care. She has taught children in preschool through the third grade, and students in child development classes at the University of Utah. Carol has a M.S. in Educational Studies from the University of Utah, an Early Childhood Education teaching credential from the University of California at Berkeley, and a B.A. in History from the University of Colorado at Boulder. Having spent many enjoyable times in Yosemite National Park, she tries to return there often with her family.
