

Becky Hall

Becky returns to the Steiner Library for her twenty-fourth year at Rowland Hall. She enjoys books and research and loves working with all of the children. When not reading kids' books, she is busy with her family: Sarah (23) and Brooks (18) and her husband Dave who is a landscape painter. Becky received degrees from Skidmore College (B.A. in Psychology) and Lesley University (M.Ed. in Math Education) and earned her Library/Media certification from Utah State University. She has recently published her second children's book, Morris and Buddy, The Story of the First Seeing Eye Dog and has a third book under contract. Her dream is to spend more time on the beach writing children's books. She loves kids, dogs, books, hiking, and skiing. At the top of her list of favorite activities is adventuring to exotic places with her family.
