

Mary Jacquin

Mary Jacquin, Director of Sustainability, is in her second year at Rowland Hall. She earned a B.S. in Political Science from Santa Clara University, and is pursuing her Masters degree from Johns Hopkins University. Prior to teaching and working with local environmental non-profits, Mary spent 12 years in the financial services arena as a project manager and product developer. Mary enjoys all things outdoors, particularly running, biking and skate skiing, usually with dog Ginger in tow. Her newest hobby is training and participating in sprint triathlons. Mary and husband Ken have three children in the Lower and Beginning School at Rowland Hall.
