

Kathryn Czarnecki has been teaching visual art at Rowland Hall Lower School since 2007. Through art she encourages creativity and individual expression. She is proud of her art students and their artistic endeavors inside and outside of the art room. Her students' artwork has been exhibited at various Salt Lake City community venues including: Gateway Discovery Children's Museum, Phillips Gallery, IJ & Jeanné Wagner Jewish Community Center, Downtown Salt Lake City Library, Rio Grande Depot and Salt Lake County Law offices. Lower School student artwork also has been recognized in a variety of Utah State art contests.

Kathryn holds a Masters Degree in Art Education from Lesley University/AIB and a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree and Post Bachelorette from School of Visual Arts. She has a variety of experience teaching art at primary and secondary levels. In 2006 she received a grant from the Japan Fulbright Memorial Fund, through which she had the opportunity to visit several schools in Japan. In 2010 she obtained certification in Imaginative Learning through Aesthetic Education from the Lincoln Center Institute in New York City.

When she is not teaching Kathryn is a professional artist and co-owner/guide for Beyond Limits, an international adventure travel company based in Park City.
