

Stephanie Orfanakis
Marketing and Communications Associate

Stephanie joined the Marketing and Communications team at Rowland Hall in 2010. She has worked in the design field for 15 years and her experiences range from store design, retail product design, graphic design, to photography and web design. She has owned a number of her own businesses and has received awards including Best of State for her yoga studio in 2007. She has spent many years exploring many mediums of design and marketing and loves being challenged in all aspects of the field.
