

Donna L. Booher

Donna is looking forward to her fourth year working as a member of both the upper and middle school counseling teams. Before coming to Rowland Hall, she was the Learning Center Director at a small boarding school in Arizona. During her career, Donna has been a classroom teacher, residential coordinator, health educator, wellness counselor and an adjunct faculty member. She has worked at The Leelanau School, Interlochen Center for the Arts Academy and Camp, Saddlebrook Preparatory School and the University of North Carolina School of the Arts. She has presented at the National Wellness Conference, the Arizona Association of Independent Schools and as a Girl's Health Mentor for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Division of Women's Health. Her undergraduate degree in Education is from Central Michigan University, and she completed her student teaching in an all girls school in Western Australia. She completed her Masters degree at the University of North Carolina Greensboro and is a certified Stress Management Instructor through the National Wellness Institute. Donna also has the fun distinction of having earned a "Mousters" and a "Ductorate" Degree from Disney University. Donna and her husband Doug are very proud of the girls they have helped to raise, love their cats and enjoy being happy together, laughing, mentoring students, reading, learning, eating great food and being active.
