

Michelle Rasich:

Michelle joined Rowland Hall in 2010 after spending nine years at Juan Diego Catholic High School in Draper where she was the Junior Class Counselor, Testing Coordinator, and the AP Coordinator. Prior to joining Juan Diego in 2001, she worked in Claremont, California as the Associate Dean of Students at Scripps College for two years, and as the Assistant Dean of Students/Dean of Residential Life at Harvey Mudd College for five years. She graduated from the University of Utah College of Law in 1994 and received her Bachelor's Degree from Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Maine in 1991. She is a member of School and Student Services for Financial Aid Professionals, the National Association for College Admission Counseling, and the Association of College Counselors in Independent Schools. Michelle and her husband graduated from Judge Memorial Catholic High School, left the state twice, and returned to Utah to be close to family, and raise their two girls here--who are both proud and happy Rowland Hall students.
