

Robert Wilson:

Rob joined the Rowland Hall faculty in 2005. Rob has a BA in biology from Lewis and Clark College and MS in biology/ecology from Utah State University. Prior to coming to Rowland Hall, Rob studied migratory birds and taught biology at Utah State University and Westminster College. In 2010, Rob participated in the SEPT program at MIT and was one of 24 educators from around the country sent by Toyota Motors to the Galapagos Islands. He is excited about sharing what he gained from those experiences with his students.
